At sixteen minutes before five o'clock the Chair (Mr. Cox of Boston) declared the House adjourned, to meet on Thursday next at eleven o'clock A.M.

THURSDAY, June 18, 1914.

Met according to adjournment, at eleven o'clock A.M.
Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Message from the Governor.

The following message from His Excellency the Governor was filed in the office of the Clerk after adjournment on Tuesday last: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, June 16, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Veto, — school for the feeble-minded in the western part of the Commonwealth.

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 1835, "An Act to provide for a school for the feeble-minded in the western part of the Commonwealth."

This act provides for the establishment of a new school for the feeble-minded in the western part of the Commonwealth and includes an appropriation for this year of a sum of $200,000, with a provision that the trustees to be appointed under the terms of the act shall formulate a plan for a method of extension of the school which will take five years for completion with an aggregate expenditure, including the $200,000 this year appropriated, of $800,000.

In my opinion, this great undertaking is not warranted at this time because, as I pointed out in a message sent to the legislature on June thirteenth returning without my approval a bill for the construction of additional buildings at the Wrentham School for Feeble-Minded, there has been no study of a definite policy or plan for the classification and care of afflicted persons of this type which would have in mind both humanitarian considerations and efficient administration.

As I stated in that veto message, I am not unmindful of the serious problem involved in the care of this class of our state wards and I again urge upon you the need of thorough and intelligent examination of the methods and means of caring for them that we may deal effectively with the problem.

In the last report of the trustees of the Massachusetts School for the Feeble-Minded, for the year ending November 30th, 1913, the Superintendent, who has attained pre-eminence in this work, says: "In the future it is probable that a comprehensive plan will be worked out providing care and supervision of the entire feeble-minded population of the state. The foundation of this plan would be a permanent continued census of every feeble-minded person in the state. . . . This enumeration and record of the feeble-minded would permit some form of extra-institutional supervision and control, with regular visitation and reports from trained social workers. . . . A rational state-wide policy for controlling feeble-mindedness must include this policy of persistent education and a recognition of the necessity of teaching the community how to safely tolerate and control mentally defective persons and families who are not sent to institutions."

It has been urged that there are at least several hundred feeble-minded persons outside of institutions who should be cared for in schools of this character, and while this statement cannot be disputed it only emphasizes the need, so well stated in the report referred to, that before any further buildings are added to the institutions already in existence and certainly before any new large institutions of this character are established, that there should be such an examination of this question as will make clear the necessities of the situation with reference to the erection of additional institutional buildings and of the further question of how many of these afflicted people can be cared for in families, outside of the institutions, where they may have the benefit of the observation and supervision of agents of this department charged with their care.

Furthermore, it should be called to your attention that the state in past years has been receiving and caring for mental defectives in her existing schools from the states of Maine, Rhode Island and Vermont, receiving compensation from those states. Maine and Rhode Island have within a few years withdrawn their wards in our institutions and the Vermont authorities have within the past year been strongly urged by the trustees of the school at Waverley to make provision for the removal of twenty-eight cases from that state now cared for in the Waverley School.

In view of the fact that this bill contemplates the purchase of land at some point in the western part of the state, I would call your attention to the fact that there is now a colony which is under the control of the Massachusetts School for Feeble-Minded, at Templeton, located upon a vast tract comprising 1,814 acres of farm land in the central part of the state which would be available as a site for the erection of institutional buildings or farm colonies as the necessities of the situation demanded. With this vast acreage adaptable for use, I deem it extremely inadvisable to make further purchases of land until such a thorough examination of the whole question as I have outlined has been made.

In order that there may be no delay in the consideration of the great problem of efficiently and humanely providing for the care of the feeble-minded, and with the view to provide the basis for action by the legislature of next year, it is my purpose to call upon the reorganized Commission on Economy and Efficiency, to be provided by your action this year, to take up with the trustees of existing institutions, as one of its first duties, the study of this great question, so that a definite policy may be determined.

DAVID I. WALSH.

The message (House, No. 2753) was read; and, pending the question "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of His Excellency the Governor?" the further consideration thereof was postponed until to-morrow, on motion of Mr. Cox of Boston.

Question of Privilege.

Order.

On motion of Mr. Bothfeld of Newton, —

Ordered, That, unless it shall be otherwise ordered, whenever the House is in session at ten minutes before one o'clock P.M. on Fridays, the Speaker shall declare a recess until two o'clock P.M.; and that, commencing Tuesday, June 23, the hour of meeting on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays shall be half-past ten o'clock A.M.

The resolve and the article of amendment were as follows:—

Resolved, That it is expedient to alter the constitution of the commonwealth by the adoption of the subjoined article of amendment; and that the said article, being agreed to by a majority of the senators and two thirds of the members of the house of representatives present and voting thereon, be entered on the journals of both houses, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and be referred to the general court next to be chosen; and that the said article be published, to the end that if agreed to in the manner provided by the constitution, by the general court next to be chosen, it may be submitted to the people for their approval and ratification, in order that it may become a part of the constitution of the commonwealth.

ARTICLE OF AMENDMENT.

Article X of Part the First of the constitution of the commonwealth is hereby amended by adding thereto the following paragraph:—For the purpose of establishing parks, public reservations, wharves and docks the general court may by special acts authorize the taking by the commonwealth, or by a county, city or town, or by a commission authorized by a special act of the general court, of more land than is needed for the actual construction of such parks, reservations, wharves or docks, provided the land and property authorized so to be taken are specified in the act; and after so much of the land or property has been appropriated for such parks, reservations, wharves or docks as is needed therefor, the commonwealth, county, city, town or commission, as the case may be, may hold, lease, sell or use, with or without restrictions, the remainder thereof.

The Resolve to provide for the appointment of a commission to consider and to report as to the development and extension of transportation facilities in the Commonwealth, and especially in the five western counties thereof (Senate, No. 556, amended), was considered, the main question being on ordering it to a third reading.

Mr. Catheron of Beverly moved that the further consideration of the resolve be postponed until Monday next, third in the orders of the day; which motion, after debate, was adopted.

At half-past four o'clock the Speaker, under the provisions of an order previously adopted, declared the House adjourned, to meet on Monday next at one o'clock P.M.

MONDAY, June 22, 1914.

Met according to adjournment, at one o'clock P.M.

Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Opinion of the Attorney General.

The following communication was received from the Attorney General:—

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL,
BOSTON, June 22, 1914.

To the House of Representatives, State House.

Opinion of the Attorney General, — reduction of the price of gas in the city of Boston.

GENTLEMEN:— You have requested my opinion upon the following question: "Whether or not the provisions of chapter four hundred and twenty-two of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and six constitute a contract between the Commonwealth and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company; and whether the provisions of the said chapter relating to the price of gas may lawfully be changed by the General Court without the assent of said company."

In connection with your request for an opinion you have submitted a copy of House Bill No. 1674, amending chapter 422 of the Acts of 1906. That part of the last mentioned chapter that would be affected by the passage of House Bill No. 1674 is as follows:

SECTION 1. From and after the thirtieth day of June in the year nineteen hundred and six, the standard price to be charged by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for gas supplied to its customers shall be ninety cents per one thousand cubic feet, which price shall not thereafter be increased except as hereinafter provided. From and after the said date the standard rate of dividends to be paid by said company to its stockholders shall be seven per cent per annum on the par value of its capital stock, which rate shall not thereafter be increased except as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 2. If during any year ending on the thirtieth day of June the maximum net price per thousand cubic feet charged by the company has been less than the standard price, the company may during the following year declare and pay dividends exceeding the standard rate in the ratio of one fifth of one per cent for every one cent of reduction of said maximum net price below the standard price.

Chapter 422 of the Acts of 1906 operated as an amendment of the original charter granted to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

The answer to your entire inquiry, therefore, will be settled by the determination of the single question, — Did the enactment of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1906 and its acceptance by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company constitute a contract between the Commonwealth and that company?

Beyond any question, if a contract was made the proposed bill, if enacted, would be unconstitutional; and also beyond any question, if a contract was not created between the two parties the rates to be charged by the company may be further regulated by the Legislature, subject only to the provision that they must not be fixed at so low a rate as to be really confiscatory. A contract between the State and a public service corporation is a very different thing from the enactment of a statute by the State regulating the conduct and management of, and fixing maximum rates to be charged to the public by, the corporation.

Your question arises under the Federal Constitution.

It has been said that, —

The term "contract" is used in the (Federal) Constitution in its ordinary sense, as signifying the agreement of two or more minds, for considerations proceeding from one to the other, to do, or not to do, certain acts. Mutual assent to its terms is of its very essence.

Louisiana v. Pilsbury, 105 U. S. 278.

The charter of a corporation created by the State is a contract and is in all particulars inviolable, unless in the charter itself or in some general or special law subject to which it was taken, there is a power reserved to the Legislature to alter, amend or repeal.

Commonwealth v. New Bedford Bridge, 2 Gray, 339.

Charles River Bridge v. Warren Bridge, 7 Pick.
344.

The original charter of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, St. 1903, c. 417, contains no provision for its alteration, amendment or repeal by the Legislature, nor does chapter 422 of the Acts of 1906, referred to in your inquiry, contain such a provision; but when those acts were passed it was the general law of the Commonwealth that every act of incorporation should be subject to amendment. Section 3 of chapter 109 of the Revised Laws provides that "every act of incorporation passed since the eleventh day of March in the year eighteen hundred and thirty-one shall be subject to amendment."

This statute, first introduced into the general legislation of the Commonwealth by St. 1830, c. 81, and re-enacted in the Rev. Sts. c. 44, § 23, and the Gen. Sts. c. 68, § 41, has been as much a part of all charters since granted as if inserted therein; and was manifestly adopted with the intention of reserving for the future a fuller parliamentary or legislative power than would otherwise be consistent with the effect to be allowed to the special terms of particular charters, under the judicial construction of the constitutional prohibition against impairing the obligation of contracts. The extent of the power reserved by such an enactment has been the subject of some diversity of judicial opinion, and a definition of its extreme limit is not necessary to this case. It is sufficient now to say that it is established by adjudications which we cannot disregard, and the principles of which we fully approve, that it at least reserves to the legislature the authority to make any alteration or amendment in a charter granted subject to it, that will not defeat or substantially impair the object of the grant, or any rights which have vested under it, and that the legislature may deem necessary to secure either that object or other public or private rights.

Commissioners on Inland Fisheries v. Holyoke
Water Power Co., 104 Mass. 446, 451.

It is a familiar rule that public grants will be strictly construed against the grantee, and rights conferred by a public grant will not be extended beyond the clear meaning of the language in which they are made. Grants of franchises are usually prepared by those interested in them and submitted to the legislatures with a view to obtain the most liberal grant obtainable; and for this and other reasons such grants should be in plain language, certain, definite in nature and contain no ambiguity in their terms, and will be strictly construed against the grantee.

Blair v. Chicago, 201 U. S. 400.

Referring to the strictness with which charters granted are to be construed, the courts have laid down the doctrine that the State is to be held to have granted only such powers or immunities as are specifically or unequivocally stated, or as are unavoidably implied therein.

Willoughby on the Constitution, vol. II, p. 898.

The Supreme Court of the United States has said of this class of cases:

The rule of construction is that it shall be construed most strongly against the corporation. Every reasonable doubt is to be resolved adversely. Nothing is to be conceded but what is given in unmistakable terms or by an implication equally clear. The affirmative must be shown. Silence is negation, and doubt is fatal to the claim.

Northwestern Fertilizing Co. v. Hyde Park, 97 U. S. 659.

Coosaw Mining Co. v. South Carolina, 144 U. S. 550.

Knoxville Water Co. v. Knoxville, 200 U. S. 22.

It has been further decided that a grant of power to fix its charges, provided they be not in excess of a specified rate in the charter of a corporation, does not prevent the State from afterward fixing lower rates than those established by the corporation.

Georgia Railroad & Banking Co. v. Smith, 128 U. S. 174.

And that generally the reservation by the State of a power to amend or revoke the charter carries with it a power to regulate the charges that may be made.

Peik v. Chicago, etc. Ry Co., 94 U. S. 164.

Applying the rules above stated to the construction of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1906 it becomes instantly apparent that the Commonwealth did not enter into any agreement that it would not further regulate the rates to be charged by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. Such a contract is neither clearly expressed in nor fairly to be implied from the language of that chapter. That the State did not make a contract not to further regulate the charges and rates of the Gas Company is conclusively shown by section 9 of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1906, which provides that the rates charged by the company may be either raised or lowered upon certain applications, therein provided for, to the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners.

Without further discussion of this matter I have to say that it is my opinion that the provisions of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1906 did not and do not constitute a contract between the Commonwealth and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company; and that, subject to the rule above stated, the provisions of that chapter relating to the price of gas may lawfully be changed by the General Court without the assent of that company.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS J. BOYNTON.

Attorney-General.

The opinion was placed on file. (House, No. 2766.)

The Bill to provide for the construction of a state highway in the town of New Marlborough (House, No. 2761) was read a third time.

The committee on Bills in the Third Reading reported recommending that the bill be amended by adding at the end of section 3 the words "and to issue bonds and notes therefor. Each authorized issue of bonds and notes shall constitute a separate loan. The said bonds or notes shall bear on their face the words 'County of Berkshire Highway Loan, Act of 1914', shall be payable by such annual payments, beginning not more than one year after the date thereof, as will extinguish each loan within five years from its date; and the amount of such annual payment of any loan in any year shall not be less than the amount of the principal of the loan payable in any subsequent year. The said bonds or notes shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four and one half per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and they shall be signed by the treasurer of the county and countersigned by a majority of the county commissioners. The county may sell the said securities at public or private sale, upon such terms and conditions as the county commissioners may deem proper, but they shall not be sold for less than their par value, and the proceeds of the sale shall be used only for the purposes specified herein. The county commissioners at the time of authorizing said loan shall provide for the payment thereof in accordance with the foregoing provisions; and a sum sufficient to pay the interest as it accrues on the bonds or notes issued as aforesaid by the county, and to make such payments on the principal as may be required under the provisions of this act, shall be levied as a part of the county tax annually thereafter, in the same manner in which other county taxes are levied, until the debt incurred by said loan or loans is extinguished."

The amendment was adopted; and the bill, as amended, was passed to be engrossed. Sent up for concurrence.

The Bill to authorize the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company to transfer its stock in the Boston Railroad Holding Company and to authorize the said holding company to sell the stock and securities of the Boston and Maine Railroad held by it (House, No. 2774) was read a third time.

Mr. Haines of Medford moved that the bill be amended as follows:—

By adding at the end of section 1 the words "provided that nothing in this section shall deprive, or be construed to deprive, any creditor of any remedy or right of action which he has under existing law;" and

By adding the following new sections:—

"SECTION 8. The governor, with the consent of the council, is hereby authorized and empowered in the name and on behalf of the commonwealth, on such terms and conditions, and at such time or times, and for such consideration as he may deem for its best financial interest, to cause the treasurer to issue and to sell its negotiable bonds and promissory notes for the purpose of purchasing or receiving in exchange therefor, all or any part of the capital stock, common or preferred, of the Boston and Maine Railroad owned or held, directly or indirectly, or pledged in any form, for the benefit of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, or failing such agreement on price, the commonwealth may take and possess the same and shall pay therefor such compensation as shall at any time, after thirty days notice in writing to the railroad corporation, be determined in the manner provided in this act; and the governor, with the consent of the council, is further empowered to do all other acts and things necessary or proper for the purpose. At all meetings of the railroad corporation he shall be entitled to one vote for each share owned by the commonwealth; and each stockholder in the railroad corporation shall be entitled to one vote for each share held by him, not exceeding, however, one-tenth of the whole capital stock, but no person shall as proxy or attorney cast more than fifty votes, nor vote on a greater number of shares by proxy than are sufficient with the shares owned and voted in by himself at such meetings, to make shares amounting to five thousand dollars in par value, or he shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both fine and imprisonment, and any person who, with like intent, aids or abets another in any violation of this section shall be imprisoned for not more than six months."

"SECTION 9. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as sanctioning or ratifying, directly or indirectly, any control, direction, supervision or influence whatsoever over the acts or doings of any domestic railroad company by virtue of such holding of stock therein, except under specific authority provided by statute."

Mr. Drury of Waltham moved that the bill be amended as follows: —

By adding at the end of section 1 the words "The transfer to said liquidators, however, shall be subject to the right of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company and some or all of its stockholders to have said stock and all bonds, notes or other evidence of indebtedness of the Boston and Maine Railroad heretofore acquired for the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company and now held by said Boston Railroad Holding Company, kept available for tender or transfer in accordance with any decree of court to parties defendant in any suit, now pending or begun within three months after the passage of this act, brought for the purpose of compelling the persons who were directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company at the time when stock, bonds, notes or other evidence of indebtedness were acquired by them in behalf of said company, or the persons from whom the same were acquired, to account for the consideration given therefor;"

By inserting at the beginning of section 2 the words "Subject to the provisions of section one;"

By inserting at the beginning of section 3 the words "Subject to the provisions of section one;" and

By amending the amendment of section 1, moved by Mr. Haines, by inserting after the word "creditor" the words "or stockholder."

After debate, at ten minutes before one o'clock, under the provisions of an order previously adopted, the Chair (Mr. Cox of Boston) declared a recess until two o'clock, at which hour the House resumed consideration of the bill.

On motion of Mr. Cox of Boston the Sergeant-at-Arms was instructed to secure the attendance of a quorum.

On the appearance of a quorum Mr. Davenport of Malden moved that the bill be amended by the substitution of a Bill to authorize and direct the Treasurer and Receiver General, acting on behalf of the Commonwealth, to acquire certain shares of stock of the Boston and Maine Railroad (House, No. 2776).

Mr. Frost of Somerville moved that the bill be amended by the substitution of a Bill to provide for separating the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad from the Boston and Maine Railroad (House, No. 2789).

The hour of half-past two o'clock having arrived the House proceeded to the consideration of the special assignment, being the Bill to exclude out-of-state milk not produced or handled under sanitary conditions (House, No. 1409).

After debate the bill was rejected, as recommended by the committee on Ways and Means, by a vote of 65 to 55.

Mr. Lydon of Boston raised the point of order that a quorum was not present. A count of the House showed that 146 members were present.

The Bill to authorize the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company to transfer its stock in the Boston Railroad Holding Company and to authorize the said holding company to sell the stock and securities of the Boston and Maine Railroad held by it (House, No. 2774) was then considered further.

Mr. Doherty of Fall River moved that the bill be amended by the substitution of a bill with the same title (House, No. 2790).

Mr. McInerney of Boston moved that debate be closed at quarter past four o'clock, unless a vote should be sooner reached.

Mr. Drury of Waltham moved that debate be closed at quarter before five o'clock, unless a vote should be sooner reached.

After debate the question was put on the motion of Mr. Drury (the same having precedence under the rule); and the motion was negatived.

On the motion of Mr. McInerney the yeas and nays were ordered, at the request of Mr. Washburn of Worcester; and the roll having been called the motion was negatived, by a vote of 69 yeas to 149 nays, as follows:—

Messages from the Governor.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 1, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

I have this day received from the Treasurer and Receiver-General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts an important communication which I transmit herewith for your consideration.

Message from
the Governor,
— readjustment
of state finances.

The Treasurer and Receiver-General of the Commonwealth is of the opinion that a readjustment of the finances of the Commonwealth by the retirement of the old sinking fund bonds and the issuance in their stead of serial bonds would result in a saving to the Commonwealth in interest alone in forty years of from twenty-five million to fifty million dollars.

This problem is one which should be studied by experts and public spirited citizens who have had wide and extensive experience in finance.

I recommend that you provide for a special commission to consider the recommendations made by the Treasurer and Receiver-General; that this commission report to the next General Court as to the manner and method by which a readjustment of the finances of the Commonwealth, if it be desirable, can best be worked out.

I regret to be obliged to call your attention to this matter at this late hour in your deliberations; but the prospect of saving, by a new plan of re-financing the debt of the Commonwealth, approximately a million dollars a year is of such importance that I believe no time should be lost in giving earnest study and careful consideration to this subject.

DAVID I. WALSH.

The message (House, No. 2802) was read; and, on motion of Mr. White of Newton, it was referred, with the accompanying communication, to the joint committee on Ways and Means. Sent up for concurrence.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor:—

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 1, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

Message from
the Governor,
— finances of the city of Salem.

At the request of the City Government of the City of Salem, a request in which I heartily concur, I am sending herewith to your Honorable Bodies drafts of two bills which are designed to be the basis of legislation to enable that stricken city to provide for necessary financial outlay to rebuild its public buildings destroyed by fire and to rehabilitate and re-establish the other agencies of the municipality.

I need not urge upon you the necessity of immediate action to do your part to accomplish the purposes sought for by this legislation.

DAVID I. WALSH.

The message (House, No. 2803) was read; and

So much thereof (with the accompanying bill) as relates to authorizing said city to borrow money to replace abated taxes, was referred, on motion of Mr. Curtin of Brookline, to the committee on Taxation; and

So much thereof (with the accompanying bill) as relates to authorizing said city to borrow money for municipal purposes, was referred, on motion of Mr. Caro of Chelsea, to the committee on Municipal Finance.

Sent up for concurrence.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor:—

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 1, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

I have had this day presented to me for submission to the Legislature a bill prepared by officials and citizens of the city of Salem, providing for the creation of a commission of five persons, to be known as the "Salem Rebuilding Commission," the duties of said commission to be principally to assist the city government in regulating the reconstruction of streets, ways, and public and private buildings in said city.

Message from the Governor, — reconstruction of streets and buildings in the city of Salem.

Accompanying the bill submitted herewith for your consideration is a record of action taken by the Citizens' Relief Committee of One Hundred of that city at a meeting held on the evening of June thirtieth last.

It would seem advisable to enact this or similar legislation which may assist in promoting the welfare of the people of that city in establishing a department in the government of that city which will advance the work of rehabilitation.

DAVID I. WALSH.

The message (House, No. 2805) was read; and, on motion of Mr. Kennard of Somerville, it was referred, with the accompanying documents, to the committee on Cities. Sent up for concurrence.

Messages from the Governor.

The following message from His Excellency the Governor was filed in the office of the Clerk after adjournment yesterday:—

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 1, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 269, "Relative to the Price of Gas in the East Boston District of the City of Boston." Veto, — price of gas in East
Boston.

This bill would fix by legislative action the price of gas supplied by the East Boston Gas Company to consumers in East Boston. There is now pending before the Gas and Electric Light Commission an investigation into this subject, and a decision may be expected from this board as soon as this legislation is disposed of.

The serious objection to this bill is that it destroys a policy inaugurated by the Commonwealth several years ago and which has been adhered to with satisfactory results up to the present time. The legislature of 1885 created a Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners for the express purpose, among others, of supervising and regulating prices charged by the gas companies of the state, and which was invested with ample inquisitorial powers to that end. Out of many cases of this kind which have been brought to the attention of the board in its nearly thirty years existence only in very rare instances has the board failed to require a reduction in price.

Within the last few months, while this bill has been pending, decisions of this board in the cases of two other companies have been made which involved an annual reduction of fully forty thousand dollars to the communities interested.

To pass peremptory legislation of this kind while a decision is pending in this board is destructive of sound business policy and is sure to shake the confidence of the general public in commissions which are tribunals established for the purpose of investigating and deciding questions of this character.

Had a hearing been held and a decision made by this board, which decision was before the legislature for review, it then could very properly be argued that the legislature, being the court of last resort, could properly take action and remedy any injustice discovered. It cannot even be claimed in this case that there has been any long delay upon the part of the commission in dealing with the matter because the record shows that the last hearing in the case was held upon April 27th, and a decision would undoubtedly have been made before this time were it not that the commission through courtesy to the legislature did not deem it proper to act while a higher tribunal was considering the same problem.

Another serious objection to this bill is that it provides only for a reduction of the price of gas to those consumers who are furnished gas in that section of Boston known as East Boston by the East Boston Gas Company. The people of the city of Chelsea are supplied with gas by this same company, and if a reduction is to be made to the people of East Boston the people of Chelsea are likewise entitled to a reduction. Therefore, this bill is discriminative and incomplete and such legislation cannot be defended from any standpoint. This discrimination is more apparent when information discloses the fact that forty-six per cent of the customers of the East Boston Gas Company live in the city of Chelsea. As any decision made by the Gas and Electric Light Commission will relate to the price of gas for the people of Chelsea as well as those of East Boston, it is very evident that fairness and justice should compel the legislature to await the decision of the commission before legislating for one portion of the community served by the company.

I fully appreciate the desire of the gas consumers in East Boston for a lower price and the fact that those who have promoted this bill believe that the price named in it would be fair. I recognize that they have a right to be supplied with gas at a reasonable compensation for such service, and it may be that even a lower price than that named in this bill should be required.

The unwisdom of this legislation would be most apparent if, after the legislature adjourns, the commission should make a decision fixing the rate for East Boston and Chelsea at even less than that provided in this bill for a portion of the community served.

I am a firm believer in strict, honest, intelligent, and courageous regulation of public service corporations. If I did not believe the Gas and Electric Light Commission was rendering this kind of service to the Commonwealth it would be my clear duty to remove its members from public office. So long as they are rendering faithful and impartial service I feel it my duty to sustain and uphold them and prevent legislation which reflects upon their capacity and intelligence and is likely to lead to a destruction of the sound policy which is essential and necessary to be preserved both in the interest of the public and those who invest in Massachusetts public service corporations. Such legislation as this tends to substitute unreason for sound judgment and to make impossible patient and honorable effort to correct abuses.

DAVID I. WALSH.

The message (House, No. 2806) was read; and, pending the question "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of His Excellency the Governor?" the further consideration thereof was postponed, on motion of Mr. Cox of Boston, until after the disposition of the orders of the day.

Subsequently the message was again considered.

Mr. Niland of Boston asked for a count of the House to ascertain if a quorum was present. A count showed that 130 members were present.

After debate the previous question was ordered, on motion of Mr. Martin of North Attleborough.

On the question "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of His Excellency the Governor?" the yeas and nays were taken, as required by the Constitution; and the roll having been called the bill failed to pass, less than two-thirds of the members having agreed to pass the same.

The vote was 15 yeas to 175 nays, as follows:—

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 2, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

Message from
the Governor,
— use of prison-made goods for Salem fire
relief.

In consultation with the Prison Commission of the Commonwealth this morning, I learned that there is in the storehouses of the Massachusetts Reformatory and the Charlestown State Prison approximately the following property: —

- 1,000 Blankets.
- 15,000 Yards of Men's Suitings.
- 5,000 Yards of Women's Dress Goods.
- 10,000 Pairs of Women's, Men's, and Children's Shoes.
- 2,000 Suits of Men's Clothes.
- 100 Mattresses and material to make 1,000 more.

It is the opinion of the Prison Commissioners that this property could be used to relieve the suffering and wants of the people who have been made destitute by the conflagration at Salem, and I request the passage of such legislation as will give them the power to use such of this property as they deem prudent for the purpose of furnishing relief in Salem.

DAVID I. WALSH.

At two minutes before one o'clock the Chair (Mr. Cox of Boston) declared the House adjourned, to meet at two o'clock P.M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Met according to adjournment, at two o'clock P.M.

Messages from the Governor.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor:—

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 3, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

The Attorney General of the Commonwealth, after a thorough examination of the law, advises me that the legislature can appropriate a sum of money for the relief of the sufferers of the conflagration at Salem on June 27th last, upon the same constitutional authority on which our whole state system for the relief of the poor is based.

Message from
the Governor,
— relief of Salem fire
sufferers.

Whatever the state can do or has been accustomed to do for poor relief, through the agency of the cities and towns, can without doubt be done directly by the state itself.

He is further of the opinion that under the police power of the Commonwealth an appropriation could be made and expended by the State Board of Charity, or any other commission desired, under the direction of the Governor of the Commonwealth, for the relief of the sufferers whose safety and health are imperilled.

I therefore recommend immediate legislative action to provide for a substantial state appropriation for the relief of the destitute people at Salem.

DAVID I. WALSH.

The message (House, No. 2815) was read; and, on motion of Mr. White of Newton, it was referred to the committee on Ways and Means.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor:—

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 3, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

Veto, — trading stamps and similar devices.

I return herewith without my approval House Bill 1643, "An Act Relative to the use of stamps, coupons, and similar devices in connection with the sale of goods, wares and merchandise."

This bill provides for the imposition of an excise tax or license fee of $100,000 on every person, firm or corporation that shall use and every person, firm or corporation that shall furnish to any other person, firm or corporation, to use in, with or for the sale of any goods, wares or merchandise, any stamps, coupons, tickets, certificates, cards, or other similar devices which shall entitle the purchaser receiving the same with such sale of goods to any goods, wares or merchandise free of charge or for less than the retail market prices thereof.

The constitution places two limitations upon the authority of the legislature to levy excise taxes; First, that they must be reasonable; and Second, that they may be levied only upon produce, goods, wares, merchandise and commodities.

The only classification under which the subject of this bill could by any possibility fall would be the word "commodities" and by the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of O'Keeffe vs. Somerville, 190 Mass. 110, declaring unconstitutional a similar act, the court there declared with finality that the business or method of doing business, at which this bill is aimed, is not a commodity, and therefore cannot be the subject of an excise tax.

It has been suggested in support of this measure that the constitutionality of the bill rests upon the police power in that the fee charged is a license fee to regulate the conduct and management of this business. This view is absolutely untenable. As is well stated by many authorities, if the legislature has the power to prohibit a certain act altogether, as for instance, the sale of intoxicating liquors, it may establish a pecuniary imposition upon its performance, intended either as a substantial prohibition or as a limitation of the number of persons who will perform the act. If the legislature has no power to prohibit the act, it cannot establish a pecuniary imposition that is really intended as a prohibition. There is not power in the legislature to prevent the conduct of this business, as the decision of our Supreme Court in the case of O'Keeffe vs. Somerville, above referred to, establishes beyond peradventure the legality and legitimacy of business sought to be restricted or prohibited by the license provision of this bill. No better language can be used in this connection than the final words of the court itself in the opinion rendered in that case: "The restrictions upon conduct which may be imposed in the exercise of the police power include everything that may be necessary in the interest of public health, the public safety or the public morals, and they include nothing more. These doctrines have often been discussed and elaborated, and it is unnecessary to consider them at length in this case. In applying them to the business mentioned in this statute, no reason appears for the imposition of an excise tax upon the business of selling articles with an accompaniment of stamps which entitle the vendee to other property."

Neither as an excise tax nor as an exercise of the licensing authority under the general police power of the state can this bill be supported, and it is unnecessary to refer to other authorities except perhaps to point to the fact that a similar bill, almost identical in its text, in the State of Washington was declared unconstitutional in a decision of the United States District Court in the case of Little vs. Tanner, 208 Federal Reporter 605.

DAVID I. WALSH.

The message (House, No. 2819) was read.

On the question "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of His Excellency the Governor?" the yeas and nays were taken, as required by the Constitution; and the roll having been called the bill failed to pass, less than two-thirds of the members having agreed to pass the same.

The vote was 23 yeas to 171 nays, as follows:—

Message from the Governor.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor: —

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 7, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives :

Message from
the Governor,
— expense of the Public Service Commission.

There is an opportunity before the legislature of 1914 adjourns to lessen the state tax to the extent of at least $200,000 yearly by changing the law of last year placing the expense of the Public Service Commission on the state. Every public service corporation in this state, by legislation passed this year and previous years, except railroads, street railways and telephone and telegraph companies, is assessed the necessary sum of money required to defray the expense of supervision and regulation. Under existing laws, gas companies, electric light companies, hydro-electric power companies are assessed for this purpose and the people of the Commonwealth are freed from the obligation of their supervision and regulation being paid out of the general tax fund. There can be no sound argument advanced for discrimination in favor of railroads, street railways and telephone and telegraph companies. All public service corporations are entitled to be treated with equality before the law.

It is sometimes thoughtlessly said that these commissioners have their salaries and expenses paid by the companies with the implication that on this account their relation to the companies is highly improper and constitutes a hindrance to an active care for the public interest. Those who assert and reiterate this statement seem to think the commissioners appear at the treasuries of the various corporations at the end of the week or month to receive their pay.

No statement could be farther from the truth; no statement could be more mischievous or misleading. The companies do not pay the salaries or the expenses of the commissioners. All are paid by the State in precisely the same manner as the salaries and expenses of the judges of our highest courts. The amounts to be allowed for the purpose are determined not by the companies but absolutely at the will and pleasure of the legislature. How the State may provide the funds for such purpose is of no more interest to the commissioners than to every other citizen or tax payer. The State does in fact recoup itself for this expenditure by a special tax upon the companies supervised and has always done so since the creation of the boards, until the exception made last year when the act creating the new Public Service Commission failed to provide for any reimbursement to the State.

The question is entirely one of taxation. Shall the State obtain the money for the maintenance of these boards out of the general tax levy or out of a special tax levied upon the companies? Two reasons, among others, for the State's policy in respect to this may well be kept in mind. First, these boards exist primarily for the particular benefit of the patrons of these companies and secondarily of the companies themselves. Second, its imposition brings no appreciable or conscious additional burden upon those by whom it is paid.

These boards have been created because of a public conviction that they are necessary to prevent the abuses to which the patrons of the companies, and perhaps the stockholders, might otherwise be subjected. They are for the protection of a particular portion of the community which can easily afford to pay a reasonable cost for that protection. The effect of such a policy upon unit costs is so minute as to be really imperceptible, while the total amount if remitted to the companies might easily be dissipated in other ways with no appreciable benefit to those who use the companies' service.

The action of last year's legislature in departing from this sound public policy means an addition of $200,000 to this year's state tax and an equal or larger amount yearly for future years. This amount can and should be saved to the tax payers of the Commonwealth.

I am again urging this recommendation made in my inaugural because I am convinced that the people of the state, if opportunity were given to them, would demand the enactment of legislation to accomplish this reduction in their tax burden.

I am transmitting herewith form of bill which may be made the basis of legislation to accomplish this object.

DAVID I. WALSH.

The message (House, No. 2823) was read; and, on motion of Mr. Ellis of Newton, it was referred, with the accompanying document, to the committee on Railroads. Sent up for concurrence.

Message from the Governor.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor:—

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, July 7, 1914.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Message from
the Governor,
— high pressure
pumping station in Boston.

The law department of the city of Boston, with the authority of the Mayor, has requested me to urge upon you the enactment of a bill authorizing the city of Boston to construct a high pressure fire pumping station in Fort Point Channel in the city of Boston under certain provisions, all of which are set forth in a bill hereto annexed.

The emergency for this legislation is very great and the reason for the request at this late date is due to the fact that just what authority the Directors of the Port of Boston possessed was unknown until late this afternoon.

The city of Boston desires permission to erect a pumping station at Fort Point Channel, and such permission can be obtained only by authority of the Legislature. The city was authorized by Chapter 312 of the Acts of 1911 to install a system of high pressure fire service and to expend therefor one million dollars. This is deemed to be of the highest importance from the standpoint of preventing fires, by real estate and insurance interests and by the community in general.

The city of Boston has already expended and incurred liabilities of large amounts, in preparation for this undertaking, but nothing can be done until a suitable site for the erection of a pumping station has been selected. Various sites have been suggested, but serious objections have arisen to each in turn.

The site now desired, namely, in Fort Point Channel, could not be granted by the Directors of the Port of Boston, even if they desired to do so, without legislative authority.

The city of Boston desires, and I recommend, the enactment of such legislation as will permit, with the approval of the Directors of the Port of Boston, the establishment of a high pressure pumping station in Fort Point Channel. It is unnecessary to refer to the great necessity of leaving nothing undone to co-operate with the authorities of the city of Boston to provide a modern first-class system of fire fighting in that municipality. In the interest of public safety, the request made by the city government, even at this stage of the legislative proceedings, would seem to be justified.

DAVID I. WALSH.

The message (House, No. 2824) was read; and, on motion of Mr. Bothfeld of Newton, it was referred, with the accompanying document, to the committee on Metropolitan Affairs. Sent up for concurrence.

Papers from the Senate.

The following report, accepted by the Senate, was read:—

The committees on Rules, which are authorized by Joint rules, — Rule 13 A. in their judgment, tend to facilitate business, report (acting as a joint committee) recommending that the joint rules be amended by inserting after Joint Rule No. 13 the following new rule:—

“13A. When a senator has deposited ten of the measures referred to in the foregoing rule in the manner therein required, and when a representative has deposited five of the measures therein referred to in the manner therein required, every such measure thereafter so deposited by such senator or such representative shall be examined by the joint committee on Rules before it is laid before the branch to which the said senator or representative belongs.

"The committee shall report on each measure so examined, recommending whether it should be considered by the present General Court or be referred to the next General Court.

"If the committee reports recommending that the measure be considered by the present General Court, the report shall not be acted upon, but the measure shall be treated in the manner otherwise provided by the joint rules, or by the rules of the Senate or the House, as the case may be.

"If the committee reports recommending that the measure be referred to the next General Court, it shall be so referred unless four-fifths of the members of each branch present and voting thereon vote in the negative. If the recommendation of reference to the next General Court is so negatived, the measure shall be treated in the manner otherwise provided by the joint rules, or by the rules of the Senate or the House, as the case may be.

"This rule shall not be rescinded, amended or suspended except by a concurrent vote of four-fifths of the members of each branch present and voting thereon."

Mr. Bothfeld of Newton moved that the rule be suspended that the report might be considered forthwith; which motion, after debate, was adopted.

After further debate, the previous question having been ordered, on motion of Mr. Proctor of Randolph, the House refused to accept the report, in concurrence.

Opium, morphine and other narcotic drugs.

A Bill relative to the time of the taking effect of the act to regulate the sale of opium, morphine and other narcotic drugs (Senate, No. 634 changed) (reported on a petition), passed to be engrossed by the Senate, was read. The rules were suspended, on motion of Mr. Bigelow of Framingham, and the bill was read a second and a third time; and it was passed to be engrossed, in concurrence.

Metropolitan district, — fire prevention.

The House Bill to provide for the better prevention of fires throughout the metropolitan district (House, No. 2636, amended) came down passed to be engrossed, in concurrence, with the following amendments:—

Striking out section 26;

Striking out section 30 and inserting in place thereof the following: "SECTION —. This act shall take effect in any city in said metropolitan district only upon its acceptance by a majority vote of the city council or corresponding body of such city, with the approval of the mayor, prior to the first day of October in the present year, and shall take effect in any town in said district only upon its acceptance by a majority vote of the voters of the said town present and voting thereon at a special town meeting called for the purpose prior to said first day of October; and the words 'metropolitan district' whenever they may occur in this act shall apply to and include every such city and town so voting."

The rule was suspended, on motion of Mr. Dolben of Somerville; and after debate, the previous question having been ordered, on motion of Mr. White of Newton, the House refused to concur with the Senate in the amendments.

On further motion of Mr. Dolben the House asked for a committee of conference on the disagreeing votes of the two branches. The Speaker appointed Mr. Dolben and Messrs. Sherburne of Brookline and Robinson of Boston the committee on the part of the House. Sent up for concurrence.

Subsequently the bill came down with the indorsement that the Senate insisted on its amendments, concurred in the appointment of a committee of conference and that Messrs. Gifford, Norwood and Brennan (of Suffolk) had been joined as the committee on the part of the Senate.

The House Bill relative to the operation of the cinematograph and to the exhibition of motion pictures (House, No. 2481, amended) came down passed to be engrossed, in concurrence, with the following amendments: —

and motion pictures.

Striking out, in section 6, line 6, in section 7, line 2, and in section 8, line 9, the word "six," and inserting in place thereof, in each instance, the word "three;" and Striking out section 17 and inserting in place thereof the following new section: "SECTION 17. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this act, the chief of the district police may grant special licenses for operators of moving pictures in churches, schoolhouses, or public institutions in the cities and towns of the commonwealth, except Boston, which, in his opinion, are in safe condition for said exhibitions, and he may prescribe regulations for the proper conduct of the same. A fee of two dollars shall accompany each application for such special license."

The rule was suspended, on motion of Mr. Chandler of East Bridgewater, and the amendments were adopted, in concurrence.

State department of health.

A Bill to create a state department of health and to amend the public health laws (Senate, No. 633, amended) (new draft of House bill, No. 2742, amended), passed to be engrossed by the Senate, was read.

The rules were suspended, on motion of Mr. White of Newton, and the bill was read a second time; and after debate it was ordered to a third reading, by a vote of 93 to 29.

The rules were suspended further, on motion of the same member, and the bill was read a third time.

Mr. Chapman of Ludlow moved that it be referred to the next General Court.

After debate the previous question was ordered, on motion of Mr. Hickey of Boston.

On the main question the yeas and nays were ordered, at the request of Mr. Long of Topsfield; and the roll having been called the bill was passed to be engrossed, in concurrence.

[Amended Jan. 14, 1892.]

8. In case of a vacancy in the office of Speaker, or in case the Speaker or the member named by him in accordance with the preceding rule is absent at the hour to which the House stands adjourned, the senior member present shall call the House to order, and shall preside until a Speaker pro tempore or a Speaker is elected by ballot, which shall be the first business in order. (5.)

MONITORS.

9. Two monitors shall be appointed by the Speaker for each division of the House, whose duty it shall be to see to the due observance of the rules and, on request of the Speaker, to return the number of votes and members in their respective divisions.

10. If a member transgress any of the rules after being notified thereof by a monitor, it shall be the duty of such monitor to report the case to the House.

[See Rule 19.]

CLERK.

11. The Clerk shall keep the journal of the House. He shall enter therein a record of each day's proceedings, and submit it to the Speaker before the hour fixed for the next sitting, and shall cause the same to be printed daily. (6.)

[Amended Jan. 16, 1888.]

12. Every question of order with the decision thereon shall be entered at large in the journal, and shall be noted in an appendix, which shall also contain the rules of the House, and of the two branches. (6.)

[Amended Feb. 2, 1891.]

13. The Clerk shall prepare and cause to be printed each day a calendar of matters in order for consideration; a list of matters lying on the table; and such other memoranda as the House or the Speaker may direct. (7.)

[Amended Jan. 16, 1888.]

14. Any objection to the calendar shall be made and disposed of before the House votes to proceed to the consideration of the Orders of the Day.

15. The Clerk shall retain bills and other papers, in reference to which any member has a right to move a reconsideration (except petitions, enacted bills, orders of inquiry and orders of notice), until the right of reconsideration has expired: provided, that the operation of this rule shall be suspended during the last week of the session. (8.)

MEMBERS.

16. No member shall stand up, to the inconvenience of others, while a member is speaking; or pass unnecessarily between the Speaker of the House and the member speaking; or stand in the passages, or in the area in front of the chair; or stand at the Clerk's desk while a roll-call is in progress.

[Amended Feb. 2, 1891.]

17. No member shall be absent more than two days, without leave of the House. No member shall absent himself from the House without leave, unless there be a quorum without his presence. When it appears to the presiding officer that the presence of a quorum is endangered he shall order the doors to be closed until the House takes action thereon. (11.)

[Amended Feb. 2, 1891.]

18. Papers in possession of a member obtaining leave of absence, or at the end of the session, shall be left by him with the Clerk.

19. If a member is guilty of a breach of any of the rules, he may be required by the House, on motion, to make satisfaction therefor; and, until he has done so, he shall not be allowed to vote or speak, except by way of excuse.

[See Rule 10.]

COMMITTEES.

20. At the beginning of the political year, standing committees shall be appointed as follows: — (12.)

A committee on Rules;

(to consist of the Speaker, who shall be chairman of the committee, and ten other members).

A committee on Ways and Means;

A committee on the Judiciary;

(to consist of eleven members each).

A committee on Elections;

(to consist of seven members).

A committee on Bills in the Third Reading;

A committee on Engrossed Bills;

A committee on Pay Roll;

(to consist of three members each).

[Amended Feb. 2, 1891; Jan. 2, 1896; Jan. 11, 1897; Jan. 10, 1898; Jan. 7, 1901.]

21. Unless other provision is made in any case all committees shall be appointed by the Speaker, and the member first named shall be chairman. (13.)

22. In case of the election of a committee by ballot, the member having the highest number of votes shall be chairman. (13.)

23. No member shall be required to be on more than two committees at the same time, or chairman of more than one.

24. No member shall serve on any committee in any question where his private right is immediately concerned, distinct from the public interest. (10.)

25. The committee on Ways and Means shall report, in appropriation bills, only such items of expenditure as are authorized by law, or such as the committee has been directed by the House to insert, and shall state in its report the total amount of appropriations in the accompanying bill; and also at the end of each item in said bill the amount, if any, appropriated the previous year for the same purpose.

[Amended Feb. 2, 1891; Jan. 2, 1896.]

26. The committee on Bills in the Third Reading shall examine and correct the bills which are referred to it, for the purpose of avoiding repetitions and unconstitutional provisions, insuring accuracy in the text and references, and consistency with the language of existing statutes: provided, that any change in the sense or legal effect, or any material change in construction, shall be reported to the House as an amendment. When a bill or a resolve referred to the committee on Bills in the Third Reading contains a provision for its reference, in whole or in part, to the people in accordance with Article XLII. of the Amendments of the Constitution, the committee shall plainly indicate such proposed reference on the outside of the bill or the resolve or on a wrapper or label attached thereto. (33.)

[Amended Jan. 15, 1880; Feb. 25, 1914.]

27. The committee on Engrossed Bills shall carefully examine and compare engrossed bills, and report them rightly and truly engrossed, when found to be so, without delay. When an engrossed bill or resolve contains a provision for its reference, in whole or in part, to the people in accordance with Article XLII. of the Amendments of the Constitution, the committee on Engrossed Bills shall certify to that fact on the envelope thereof. (34.)

[Amended Feb. 25, 1914.]

28. All resolutions, bills and resolves for introduction on leave, intended for presentation by any member of the House, and all reports of State officers, shall first be deposited with the Clerk, and prior to their presentation shall be submitted by him to the Speaker for his examination; and not later than the fourth legislative day succeeding the day of their deposit with the Clerk, the Speaker shall, before the Orders of the Day are considered, present the same to the House, when they, in the case of resolutions, bills and resolves, shall be read, and shall by the Speaker with the consent of the House be referred to the appropriate committee; and all such resolutions, bills and resolves shall be printed under the direction of the Clerk. They shall retain their original provided numbers when reprinted, together with new numbers thereafter, during all subsequent stages. All petitions asking for legislation shall, if accompanied by a bill or resolve embodying the subject-matter prayed for, be referred with such bill or resolve as provided above. The same disposition shall be made of petitions and remonstrances referring to matters previously sent to a committee. Petitions not so accompanied shall be retained in the custody of the Clerk until a bill or resolve embodying the legislation prayed for shall be filed with him, when he shall present the same to the Speaker, to be disposed of as provided above. The House may at any time by order make any other disposition of petitions and remonstrances in the hands of the Clerk. (20.)

[Adopted Jan. 13, 1893; amended Jan. 11, 1894; March 30, 1894; March 14, 1899.]

29. Any petition remaining in the hands of the Clerk subsequent to five o'clock in the afternoon on the second Saturday of the session, for the reason that no bill or resolve embodying the legislation prayed for has been presented, shall be forthwith submitted by him to the Speaker, and by him, at the legislative session next succeeding, be referred to the next General Court. This rule shall not be rescinded or revoked or suspended except by a vote of four-fifths of the members present and voting thereon. (22.)

[Adopted Jan. 13, 1893; amended Jan. 11, 1894; Jan. 10, 1898; Feb. 21, 1905; Feb. 1, 1910.]

30. When the object of an application can be secured without a special act under existing laws, or, without detriment to the public interests, by a general law, the committee to which the matter is referred shall report such general law, or leave to withdraw, or ought not to pass, as the case may be. (16.)

[Amended Jan. 15, 1880; Jan. 13, 1893.]

31. No legislation affecting the rights of individuals or the rights of a private or municipal corporation, otherwise than as it affects generally the people of the whole Commonwealth or the people of the city or town to which it specifically applies, shall be proposed or introduced except upon a petition; nor shall any bill or resolve embodying such legislation be reported by a committee except upon a petition duly referred; nor shall such a bill or resolve be reported by a committee, whether on an original reference or on a recommittal with instructions to hear the parties, until it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the committee that proper notice of the proposed legislation has been given, by public advertisement or otherwise, to all parties interested, without expense to the Commonwealth, or until evidence satisfactory to the committee is produced that all parties interested have in writing waived notice. A committee reporting leave to withdraw or reference to the next General Court, for want of proper notice or of a waiver thereof, shall set forth this fact in its report, and no bill or resolve shall be in order as a substitute for or amendment of such report. Objection to the violation of this rule may be taken at any stage prior to that of the third reading. (15.)

[Adopted Feb. 11, 1890; amended Jan. 13, 1893.]

32. A petition for the incorporation of a town or city, or for the division of an existing town or city, or for the incorporation of a railroad, street railway, elevated railroad or canal company, or for the amendment, alteration, or extension of the charter or corporate powers or privileges of any such company, either specially incorporated or organized under general laws, or for authority to take water for a water supply, or relative to building structures over navigable or tide waters, shall be referred to the next General Court, and not to a committee, unless the petitioner has given the notice required by chapter 3 of the Revised Laws or by other provisions of law; a petition for the incorporation of a college or university or other educational institution, with power to grant degrees, or for an amendment of the charter of an existing educational institution so that the said institution not having such power shall thereafter have power to grant degrees, shall also be referred to the next General Court, and not to a committee, unless the petitioner has given the notice required by chapter 3 of the Revised Laws; but if, no objection being raised, any such petition is referred to a committee without such required notice, the committee shall forthwith report reference to the next General Court, setting forth as the reason for such report failure to give the required notice, unless evidence satisfactory to the committee is produced that all parties interested have in writing waived notice. In case a bill or resolve is reported by a committee upon such a petition, after proof of such waiver of notice, this fact shall be set forth in the report of the committee. When a report of reference to the next General Court is made by a committee, on account of failure to give the required notice, no bill or resolve shall be substituted for such report, nor shall such report be recommitted or referred to another committee; but reference of the petition to the next General Court for want of proper notice under this rule shall not affect action upon any other measure involving the same subject-matter. (25.)

[Adopted Feb. 11, 1890; amended Feb. 2, 1891; Feb. 18, 1898; Feb. 6, 1902.]

33. On or before the second Wednesday in March, committees shall make final report upon matters referred to them prior to that day.

[Amended Feb. 15, 1883; Feb. 2, 1891; Jan. 25, 1894.]

Committee of the Whole.

34. When the House determines to go into a committee of the whole, the chairman shall be appointed by the Speaker.

35. The rules of the House shall be observed in a committee of the whole, so far as they may be applicable, except the rules limiting debate. A motion to rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again, shall be always first in order and be decided without debate.

REGULAR COURSE OF PROCEEDINGS.

Petitions, etc., and Reports of Committees.

36. Petitions, memorials, remonstrances and papers of a like nature, and reports of committees, shall be presented before the House proceeds to the consideration of the Orders of the Day, and the Speaker shall call for such papers.

37. The member presenting a petition, memorial, or remonstrance, shall endorse his name thereon, with a brief statement of the nature and object of the paper; and the reading thereof shall be dispensed with, unless specially ordered. (18.)

Papers from the Senate.

38. Papers from the Senate shall be laid before the House by the Speaker, and received for action conformably to such of these rules as are applicable thereto, before the House proceeds to the consideration of the Orders of the Day.

Papers addressed to the House, not Petitions.

39. Papers addressed to the House, or the General Court, other than petitions, memorials and remonstrances, or those received from the Senate, may be presented by the Speaker, or by a member in his place, and shall be read, unless it is specially ordered that the reading be dispensed with.

Motions contemplating Legislation, etc.

40. All motions contemplating legislation shall be founded upon petition or upon bill or resolve proposed to be introduced on leave.

The committee on Ways and Means may originate and report appropriation bills based upon existing law. Messages from the Governor shall, unless otherwise ordered, be referred to the appropriate committee, which may report by bill or otherwise thereon. A similar disposition shall, unless otherwise ordered, be made of reports by State officers and recess committees authorized to report to the Legislature, and similar action may be had thereon. (19.)

[Amended Jan. 13, 1893; Jan. 2, 1896.]

Postponement to the Next Day on Request of a Member.

41. The consideration of an order proposed for adoption, except as provided in joint rule twenty-eight or House rule one hundred and four, or of any request for leave to introduce a bill, or any motion to suspend joint rules eight or thirteen, or House rules thirty-one, forty-five or forty-six, shall be postponed without question to the day after that on which the order is proposed or request or motion made, if any member asks such postponement. (24.)

[Amended June 13, 1890; Jan. 13, 1893; March 14, 1899.]

Bills and Resolves. [See Rule 95.]

42. Bills shall be printed or written in a legible hand, without material erasure or interlineation, on not less than one sheet of paper, with suitable margins and spaces between the several sections, dates and numbers being written in words at length. Bills amending existing laws shall not provide for striking words from, or inserting words in, such laws, unless such course is best calculated to show clearly the subject and nature of the amendment. No repealed law, and no part of any repealed law, shall be re-enacted by reference merely. (17.)

[Amended Jan. 15, 1880; Feb. 2, 1891.]

43. If a committee to whom a bill is referred report that the same ought not to pass, the question shall be, "Shall this bill be rejected?" If the question on rejection is negatived, the bill, if it has been read but once, shall go to a second reading without question; otherwise it shall be placed in the Orders for the next day, pending the question on ordering to a third reading, or engrossment, as the case may be. (30.)

[Amended Jan. 10, 1883.]

44. Bills involving an expenditure of public money, or grant of public property, unless the subject-matter has been acted upon by the joint committee on Ways and Means, shall, after their first reading, be referred to the committee on Ways and Means, for report on their relation to the finances of the Commonwealth. New provisions shall not be added to such bills by the committee on Ways and Means, unless directly connected with the financial features thereof. Bills involving an expenditure of county money shall, after their first reading, be referred to the committee on Counties on the part of the House, for report on their relation to the finances of the county affected, unless the subject-matter thereof has been previously acted upon by the joint committee on Counties; and no new provisions shall be added to such bills by the committee on Counties on the part of the House unless directly connected with the financial features thereof. (27.)

45. Bills from the Senate, after their first reading, shall be referred to a committee of the House, unless they were reported to the Senate by a joint committee. (26.)

46. Amendments proposed by the Senate and sent back to the House for concurrence shall be referred to the committee which reported the measure proposed to be amended, unless such committee is composed of members of both branches; in which case such amendments shall be placed in the Orders of the Day for the next day. (36.)

[Amended April 9, 1878.]

47. No bill shall be proposed or introduced unless received from the Senate, reported by a committee, or moved as an amendment to the report of a committee: provided, that the House may grant special leave to a member to introduce a bill; but, when leave is asked for the introduction of a bill, it shall be read for information before the question is put on granting leave; and, if leave is granted, it shall be committed before it is ordered to a second reading. (23.)

48. Bills, resolves and other papers that have been, or, under the rules or usage of the House, are to be printed, shall be read by their titles only, unless the full reading is requested. (29.)

[Adopted Jan. 10, 1883.]

49. When a bill, order, petition, memorial or remonstrance has been finally rejected by the House, no measure substantially the same shall be introduced by any committee or member during the same session. (54.)

[Amended April 26, 1877; Feb. 11, 1890.]

50. Bills in their third reading shall be referred to the committee on Bills in the Third Reading for examination, correction and report. Resolutions received from and adopted by the Senate, or reported in the House, shall, after they are read and before they are adopted, be referred in like manner to the committee on Bills in the Third Reading. When a bill or resolution has been so referred, such bill or resolution shall not be acted upon until report thereon has been made by the committee. (33.)

[Amended Jan. 10, 1898.]

[See Rule 26.]

51. No bill shall pass to be engrossed without having been read on three several days. (28.)

52. Engrossed bills shall be referred to the committee on Engrossed Bills for examination, comparison and report. (34.)

[See Rule 27.]

53. No engrossed bill shall be amended, except by striking out the enacting clause. (34.) (49.)

[Amended Feb. 2, 1891.]

54. Engrossed bills, reported by the committee on Engrossed Bills, to be rightly and truly engrossed, shall be put upon their passage to be enacted; and engrossed resolves, when so reported, shall be put upon their passage without further reading, unless specially ordered. (34.)

55. No engrossed bill shall be sent to the Senate without notice thereof being given by the Speaker.

Orders of the Day.

56. Bills from the Senate, after their first reading, when not referred to a committee of the House, bills favorably reported to the House by committees, and bills the question of the rejection of which is negatived, shall be placed in the Orders for the next day, and, if they have been read but once, shall go to a second reading without question. Resolutions received from and adopted by the Senate, or reported in the House by committees, shall, after they are read, be placed in the Orders of the Day for the next day. (26.)

[Amended Jan. 10, 1883; Feb. 5, 1886; Jan. 10, 1898.]

57. Reports of committees not by bill or resolve shall be placed in the Orders of the next day after that on which they are received from the Senate, or made to the House, as the case may be: provided, that the report of a committee asking to be discharged from the further consideration of a subject, and recommending that it be referred to another committee, shall be immediately considered and shall not be subject to the provisions of rule fifteen. (36.)

[Amended Jan. 15, 1880; Feb. 2, 1891.]

58. Bills ordered to a third reading shall be placed in the Orders of the next day for such reading. (32.) (33.)

[Amended Feb. 2, 1891; Jan. 10, 1893.]

59. After entering upon the consideration of the Orders of the Day, the House shall proceed with them in regular course as follows: Matters not giving rise to a motion or debate shall first be disposed of in the order in which they stand in the calendar; after which the matters that were passed over shall be considered in like order and disposed of. (37.)

60. When the House does not finish the consideration of the Orders of the Day, those which had not been acted upon shall be the Orders of the next and each succeeding day until disposed of, and shall be entered in the calendar, without change in their order, to precede matters added under rules fifty-six, fifty-seven and fifty-eight. The unfinished business in which the House was engaged at the time of adjournment shall have the preference in the Orders of the next day, after motions to reconsider. (35.)

[Amended Jan. 13, 1893.]

Special Rules affecting the Course of Proceedings.

[For postponement of Order, etc., to the next day, on request of a member, see Rule 41.]

61. No matter which has been duly placed in the Orders of the Day shall be discharged therefrom, or considered out of the regular course. This rule shall not be rescinded or revoked or suspended except by a vote of four-fifths of the members present and voting thereon. (38.)

[Amended Jan. 10, 1895.]

62. If, under the operation of the previous question, or otherwise, an amendment is made at the second or third reading of a bill substantially changing the greater part of such bill, the question shall not be put forthwith on ordering the bill to a third reading or to be engrossed (as the case may be), but the bill, as amended, shall be placed in the Orders of the next day after that on which the amendment is made, and shall then be open to further amendment before such question is put. In like manner, when, under the operation of the previous question or otherwise, an amendment is made in any proposition of such a nature as to change its character, as from a bill to an order, or the like, the proposition as amended shall be placed in the Orders of the next day after that on which the amendment was made. (31.)

VOTING.

63. No member shall vote upon any question where his private right is immediately concerned, distinct from the public interest. (10.)

64. Members desiring to be excused from voting shall make application to that effect before the division of the House or the taking of the yeas and nays is begun. Such application may be accompanied by a brief statement of reasons by the member making it, but shall be decided without debate, and shall not be subject to the provisions of rule sixty-eight. (57.)

[Amended Jan. 8, 1877; Feb. 5, 1886; Jan. 13, 1893.]

65. When a question is put, the sense of the House shall be taken by the voices of the members, and the Speaker shall first announce the vote as it appears to him by the sound. (55.)

66. If the Speaker is unable to decide by the sound of the voices, or if his announcement made thereupon is doubted by a member rising in his place for that purpose, the Speaker shall order a return by divisions of the number voting in the affirmative and in the negative, without further debate upon the question. (55.)

[For duty of monitors in case of a division, see Rule 9.]

67. When a return by divisions is ordered, the members for or against the question, when called on by the Speaker, shall rise in their places, and stand until they are counted. If upon the taking of such a vote the presence of a quorum is doubted, a count of the House shall be had, and if a quorum is present the vote shall stand.

[Amended Feb. 11, 1889.]

68. The sense of the House shall be taken by yeas and nays whenever required by thirty of the members present. When the yeas and nays are taken, the roll of the House shall be called in alphabetical order, and no member shall be allowed to vote who was not on the floor before the vote is declared. If, before the question is taken, a member states to the House that he has paired with another member who is absent with a committee by authority of the House, and how each would vote upon the pending question, the fact shall be entered on the journal immediately after the record of the yeas and nays, and such members shall be excused from voting, but shall be included with the members voting for the purposes of a quorum. (56.) (57.)

[Amended Jan. 4, 1878; April 2, 1878; April 1, 1879; Feb. 2, 1891; Jan. 10, 1895; Jan. 21, 1909; Jan. 18, 1910.]

69. The call for the yeas and nays shall be decided without debate. If the yeas and nays have been ordered before the question is put, the proceedings under rules sixty-five, sixty-six and sixty-seven shall be omitted; if not, they may be called for in lieu of a return by divisions when the Speaker's announcement is doubted by a member rising in his place, and, if then ordered, the proceedings under rules sixty-six and sixty-seven shall be omitted. (52.)

[Amended Jan. 13, 1893.]

Reconsideration.

70. No motion to reconsider a vote shall be entertained unless it is made on the same day on which the vote was passed, or before the Orders of the Day have been taken up on the next day thereafter on which a quorum is present. If reconsideration is moved on the same day, the motion shall (except during the last week of the session) be placed first in the Orders of the Day for the succeeding day; but, if it is moved on the succeeding day, the motion shall be considered forthwith: provided, however, that this rule shall not prevent the reconsideration of a vote on a subsidiary, incidental or dependent question at any time when the main question to which it relates is under consideration; and provided, further, that a motion to reconsider a vote on any subsidiary, incidental or dependent question shall not remove the main subject under consideration from before the House, but shall be considered at the time when it is made. (53.)

[Amended June 13, 1890; Feb. 2, 1891; Feb. 7, 1902.]

71. When a motion for reconsideration is decided, that decision shall not be reconsidered, and no question shall be twice reconsidered; nor shall any vote be reconsidered upon either of the following motions: — to adjourn,

to lay on the table,
to take from the table; or,
for the previous question. (53.)

72. Debate on motions to reconsider shall be limited to thirty minutes, and no member shall occupy more than five minutes; but on a motion to reconsider a vote upon any subsidiary or incidental question, debate shall be limited to ten minutes, and no member shall occupy more than three minutes.

[Amended Feb. 5, 1886; June 13, 1890.]

[For rule requiring the Clerk to retain papers, except, etc., until the right of reconsideration has expired, see Rule 15.]

RULES OF DEBATE.

73. Every member, when about to speak, shall rise and respectfully address the Speaker; shall confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personalities; and shall sit down when he has finished. No member shall speak out of his place without leave of the Speaker. (39.)

74. When two or more members rise at the same time the Speaker shall name the member entitled to the floor, preferring one who rises in his place to one who does not. (40.)

75. No member shall interrupt another while speaking, except by rising to call to order. (42.)

76. No member shall speak more than once to the prevention of those who have not spoken and desire to speak on the same question. (41.)

Motions.

77. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker so directs. (44.)

78. A motion need not be seconded, and may be withdrawn by the mover if no objection is made. (44.)

Limit of Debate.

79. A motion to adjourn shall be always first in order, and shall be decided without debate; and on the motions to lay on the table, to take from the table, for the previous question, to close debate at a specified time, to postpone to a time certain, to commit or recommit, not exceeding ten minutes shall be allowed for debate, and no member shall speak more than three minutes. (52.)

[Amended Feb. 19, 1878; Jan. 26, 1880; Feb. 2, 1891; March 14, 1899.]

[For application to be excused from voting, to be decided without debate, see Rule 64.]

[For call for yeas and nays, to be decided without debate, see Rule 69.]

[For questions of order, arising after the previous question is moved, to be decided without debate, except on appeal, see Rule 83.]

80. When a question is before the House, until it is disposed of, the Speaker shall receive no motion that does not relate to the same, except the motion to adjourn, or some other motion that has precedence either by express rule of the House, or because it is privileged in its nature; and he shall receive no motion relating to the same, except, —

to lay on the table,

See Rule 79.

for the previous question,

See Rules 79, 81-86.

to close the debate at a specified time,

See Rules 79, 85, 86.

to postpone to a time certain,

See Rules 79 and 87.

to commit (or recommit),

See Rules 79 and 88.

to amend,

See Rules 89-92.

to refer to the next General Court, which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged in this rule. (46.)

[Amended Jan. 14, 1892.]

Previous Question.

81. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the main question be now put?" — and all debate upon the main question shall be suspended until the previous question is decided.

82. On the previous question debate shall be allowed only to give reasons why the main question should not be put.

[Amended March 14, 1899.]

83. All questions of order arising after a motion is made for the previous question shall be decided without debate, excepting on appeal; and on such appeal, no member shall speak more than once without leave of the House.

[See Rule 94.]

84. The adoption of the previous question shall put an end to all debate except as provided in rule eighty-six, and bring the House to a direct vote upon pending amendments, if any, in their regular order, and then upon the main question.

[Amended Jan. 14, 1892; Jan. 13, 1893.]

Motion to Close Debate at a Specified Time.

85. Debate may be closed at any time not less than thirty minutes from the adoption of a motion to that effect. In case the time is extended by unanimous consent, the same rule shall apply at the end of the extended time as at the time originally fixed. (47.)

[Amended Jan. 8, 1877; Jan. 15, 1880; March 14, 1899.]

[See the next rule.]

When Debate is closed, Ten Minutes allowed, etc.

86. When debate is closed by ordering the previous question, or by a vote to close debate at a specified time, the member in charge of the measure under consideration shall be allowed to speak ten minutes, and may grant to any other member any portion of his time. When the measure under consideration has been referred to the committee on Ways and Means, under House rule forty-four, the member originally reporting it shall be considered in charge, except where the report of the committee on Ways and Means is substantially different from that referred to them, in which case the member originally reporting the measure, and the member of the committee on Ways and Means reporting thereon, shall each be allowed to speak five minutes, the latter to have the close. When the member entitled to speak under this rule is absent, the member standing first in order upon the committee reporting the measure, who is present and joined in the report, shall have the right to occupy such time.

Matters referred by either the Senate or the House to its committee on the Judiciary, on Ways and Means, or on Rules, shall be considered by the respective committees of the two branches, acting as joint committees, when, in the judgment of the chairmen of the respective committees of the two branches, the interests of legislation or the expedition of business will be better served by such joint consideration. Matters may also be referred respectively to the committees on the Judiciary, on Ways and Means, and on Rules, of the two branches, as joint committees.

The committees on Rules, together with the presiding officers of the two branches, acting as a joint committee, may consider and suggest such measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to facilitate the business of the session. [Amended Jan. 6, 1882; Jan. 5, 1883; Jan. 7, 1884; Jan. 8, 1885; Jan. 26, 1885; Jan. 8, 1886; Jan. 12, 1887; Jan. 9, 1888; Jan. 28, 1889; Jan. 8, 1890; Feb. 2, 1891; Jan. 11, 1892; Feb. 10, 1892; Feb. 7, 1893; Jan. 8, 1894; Jan. 7, 1895; Jan. 7, 1896; Jan. 11, 1897; Jan. 10, 1898; Jan. 9, 1899; Jan. 22 and Jan. 29, 1901; Jan. 6, 1902; Jan. 9, 1903; Jan. 8, 1904; Jan. 6, 1905; Jan. 4, 1907; Jan. 5, 1910; Jan. 4, 1911; Jan. 1, 1913; and Jan. 12, 1914.]

2. No member of either branch shall act as counsel for any party before any committee of the Legislature.

3. No committee of the Senate or the House shall travel unless authorized by a vote of two-thirds of the members of its branch present and voting. No joint committee shall travel unless authorized by a concurrent vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch present and voting. No committee shall travel except at the expense of the Commonwealth. In any case when a committee is authorized to travel, the Sergeant-at-Arms shall provide transportation only for members of the committee and the officer accompanying them, and the reasonable travelling expenses of such members and officers only shall be charged to or paid by the Commonwealth. Neither the Sergeant-at-Arms nor the officer detailed by him shall permit any person to accompany such committee while in the discharge of its official duties unless invited by vote of the committee.

All bills for the travelling expenses of committees shall, in such form and detail as may be prescribed by the Auditor of the Commonwealth, be submitted by the Sergeant-at-Arms to the committee by whom they have been incurred; and such bills, before they are presented to the Auditor of the Commonwealth, shall first be approved by a majority of the committee incurring them. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall procure from the Auditor and shall, on the first Monday in each month, transmit to the General Court in print a statement of all such bills which have been presented to the Auditor during the preceding month. [Adopted Feb. 7, 1890. Amended Feb. 2, 1891, and Jan. 20, 1904.]

4. Joint committees may report by bill, resolve, or otherwise, to either branch, at their discretion, having reference to an equal distribution of business between the two branches, except that money bills shall be reported to the House; and except that when a report is made from any committee to either branch, and the subject-matter thereof is subsequently referred therein to a joint committee, such committee shall report its action to the branch in which the original report was made. [See also next rule.]

5. Reports of joint committees may be recommitted to the same committees at the pleasure of the branch first acting thereon, and bills or resolves may be recommitted in either branch, but no such recommitment shall be made after the fourth Wednesday in March. A concurrent vote shall, however, be necessary for the recommitment of such reports, bills, or resolves, with instructions. After recommitment, report shall, in all cases, be made to the branch originating the recommitment. [Amended Feb. 2, 1891.]

6. Bills and resolves reported by joint committees shall be printed or fairly written in a legible hand, without material erasure or interlineation, and on not less than one sheet of paper, with suitable margins, and with spaces between the several sections. Dates and numbers shall be printed or written in words at length. [Amended Jan. 28, 1889.]

7. Whenever, upon any application for an act of incorporation or other legislation, the purpose for which such legislation is sought can be secured without detriment to the public interests by a general law or under existing laws, the committee to which the matter is referred shall report such general law, or "leave to withdraw," or "ought not to pass." [Amended Feb. 2, 1891, and Feb. 7, 1893.]

Notice to Parties Interested.

8. No legislation affecting the rights of individuals or the rights of a private or municipal corporation, otherwise than as it affects generally the people of the whole Commonwealth or the people of the city or town to which it specifically applies, shall be proposed or introduced except by a petition, nor shall any bill or resolve embodying such legislation be reported by a committee except upon a petition duly referred, nor shall such a bill or resolve be reported by a committee, whether on an original reference or on a recommitment with instructions to hear the parties, until it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the committee that proper notice of the proposed legislation has been given by public advertisement or otherwise to all parties interested, without expense to the Commonwealth, or until evidence satisfactory to the committee is produced that all parties interested have in writing waived notice. A committee reporting leave to withdraw or reference to the next General Court for want of proper notice or of a waiver thereof shall set forth this fact in its report, and no bill or resolve shall be in order as a substitute for, or amendment of, such report. Objection to the violation of this rule may be taken at any stage prior to that of the third reading. [Adopted Feb. 7, 1890.]

9. A petition for the incorporation of a town or city, or for the division of an existing town or city, or for the incorporation of a railroad, street railway, elevated railroad or canal company, or for the amendment, alteration or extension of the charter or corporate powers or privileges of any such company, either specially incorporated or organized under general laws, or for authority to take water for a water supply, or relative to building structures over navigable or tide waters, shall be referred to the next General Court, and not to a committee, unless the petitioner has given the notice required by chapter 3 of the Revised Laws, or by other provisions of law. A petition for the incorporation of a college or university or other educational institution, with power to grant degrees, or for an amendment of the charter of an existing educational institution so that the said institution, not having such power, shall thereafter have power to grant degrees, shall also be referred to the next General Court, and not to a committee, unless the petitioner has given the notice required by chapter 3 of the Revised Laws. But if, no objection being raised, any such petition is referred to a committee without such required notice, the committee shall forthwith report reference to the next General Court, setting forth as the reason for such report failure to give the required notice, unless evidence satisfactory to the committee is produced that all parties interested have in writing waived notice. In case a bill or resolve is reported by a committee upon such a petition, after proof of such waiver of notice, this fact shall be set forth in the report of the committee. When a report of reference to the next General Court is made by a committee on account of failure to give the required notice, no bill or resolve shall be substituted for such report, nor shall such report be recommitted or referred to another committee; but reference of the petition to the next General Court for want of proper notice under this rule shall not affect action upon any other measure involving the same subject-matter. [Adopted Feb. 7, 1890. Amended Feb. 2, 1891; Feb. 3, 1898; and Jan. 16, 1903.]

Limit of Time Allowed for Reports of Committees.

10. Joint committees shall make final report upon all matters previously referred to them, on or before the second Wednesday in March; but, except as provided in Rule No. 30, the time within which they are required to report upon such matters may be extended, by concurrent vote, until a day not later than the second Wednesday in April. When the time within which such joint committees are required to report has expired, all matters upon which no report has then been made shall, within three legislative days thereafter, be reported by the chairman of the committee on the part of the branch in which they were respectively introduced, with a recommendation of reference to the next General Court under this rule. This rule shall not be rescinded, amended or suspended, except by a concurrent vote of four-fifths of the members of each branch present and voting thereon. [Amended Feb. 2, 1891; Jan. 25, 1894; Jan. 16, 1903; and Jan. 20, 1904.]

Committees of Conference.

11. Committees of conference shall consist of three members on the part of each branch, representing its vote; and their report, if agreed to by a majority of each committee, shall be made to the branch asking the conference, and may be either accepted or rejected, but no other action shall be had, except through a new committee of conference.

Limit of Time Allowed for New Business.

12. Resolutions, and petitions, memorials, bills and resolves introduced on leave, and all other subjects of legislation, except reports required to be made to the Legislature, deposited with the Clerk of either branch subsequently to five o'clock in the afternoon on the second Saturday of the session, shall, when presented, be referred to the next General Court; but this rule shall not apply to petitions in aid of, and remonstrances against, legislation already introduced and pending; nor shall it apply to a petition offered in place of a former one having in view the same object, upon which, before reference to a committee, leave to withdraw was given because the same was not in proper form, provided that such subsequent petition is deposited with the Clerk of either branch within one week from the day on which leave to withdraw was given; nor shall it apply to a bill or resolve introduced on leave or to a resolution presented subsequently to five o'clock in the afternoon on the second Saturday of the session, when such bill, resolve or resolution is based upon the report of a joint committee which has been made in compliance with instructions to report facts or to investigate, provided the said bill, resolve or resolution is introduced within one week after the committee's report is submitted. This rule shall not be rescinded, amended or suspended, except by a concurrent vote of four-fifths of the members of each branch present and voting thereon: provided, however, that, except by unanimous consent, it shall not be suspended with reference to a petition for legislation when such petition is not accompanied by a bill or a resolve embodying the legislation requested. [No. 4.]

QUESTIONS OF ORDER.

[The figures in the following paragraphs refer to the page of the Journal on which the questions and decisions are rendered.]

That after a bill has been ordered to a third reading it is too late to raise the point of order that it is beyond the scope of the subject matter considered by the committee [400].

That amendments broader in their scope than the subject matter considered by the committee are not in order [411; 1187, 1220; 1370; 1431; 1756; 2169].

For instances where amendments have been held to be germane [687; 1164, 1404; 1422, 1434].

That after the Speaker has declared the House adjourned, and the unanimous consent of the members present is given that the declaration with reference to adjournment be considered as not having been made, and the Speaker having announced that the motion to adjourn is still pending, it is too late to raise a point of order that the action of the Speaker is not in order [650].

That pending an appeal from the decision of the chair on a point of order, a motion to suspend the provisions of a standing order requiring the Speaker to declare an adjournment at a specified time is in order [652].

That bills involving the expenditure of public money, state or county, are improperly in the orders of the day for consideration unless they have been previously referred to the committee on Ways and Means, or the committee on Counties on the part of the House, as the case may be [875, 893; 1067; 1318, 1373; 1467; 1516].

That it is not in order to move as an amendment a bill which is substantially the same as that embodied in a measure which has been finally rejected [1125, 1323, 1504, 1551].

That a bill changed in a single essential provision is not substantially the same [1324; 1404, 1421; 1553, 1590].

That the rejection of a bill which is general in its character does not preclude the consideration of a special bill accompanying a petition asking for special legislation [1207].

That a bill which is special in its character cannot be reported upon a petition asking for general legislation [1322].

That when a petition asks for general or special legislation, and the committee reports leave to withdraw on said petition, it is in order to move as an amendment for said report either a general or a special bill [1336].

That after a bill has been ordered to a third reading it is too late to raise the point of order that, under House Rule 30, the committee should have reported a general instead of a special act [1466].

That after a bill has been ordered to a third reading it is too late to raise the point of order that the bill is beyond the subject matter considered by the committee [1777].

That amendments proposing to change a bill which is special in its character to a general bill are in order [1843].
